The Maroon and Gold of 1923

Volume XVII

A Year Book Published by the Senior Class of Monmouth High School.

1923

Foreword.

~: The sincere hope of the Staff is that this volume of the 1923 Maroon and Gold may instill in our hearts a deeper appreciation of Monmouth High School~~~that it may be a record of her achievement, and that in future years it may bring memories of the friends and events of our High School days. ~:~ ~;~ ~;~

Dedication.

To Our Parents:

We wish to dedicate the 1923 Maroon and Gold to our parents as a token of our appreciation for the sympathy and self-sacrifice which has made it possible for us to pass the four happy years in M. H. S. which we have attempted to record in this volume.

Senior Class History.

Once upon a time not so very long ago, four years ago to be exact, there came thronging into the halls of M. H. S. a lot of little, timid freshies who knew about as much about the ways of high school life as Henry VIII knew about airplanes.

One rather uneventful year passed, and the "green" little freshies were "green" no longer, but experienced Sophomores one step farther on the way to graduation. The class was represented on the debate and track teams, and a Sophomore boy represented Monmouth in the Big Eight Boy's Declamation Contest. The whole school was made aware of the presence of the class of '23.

Another year rolled by, and the Sophomores found themselves Juniors playing a most important part in the life of old Monmouth High. Members of the class were to be found in all school activities. More than one school organization owed its "pep" to a lively group of Juniors. The success of the Clipper, the long to be remembered Junior-Senior Banquet, the splendid showing the boys made in athletics, and the fact that a Junior was on the debate team, all added laurels to the class of '23.

Seniors at last! Yes, the halls were now dominated by dignified Seniors, who only four years before were mere freshmen. They were Seniors who made the better part of the basketball, football and track teams. They were Seniors who put out the best annual ever published. They were Seniors who started student body government on its way. They were Seniors who made half of the debate team. They are Seniors who must now bid a fond farewell to dear old Monmouth High.

The Junior Class History.

One pulcchritudinous autumnal day, three years ago, as old Sol arose and indolently stretched himself (how like a self-satisfied Senior, someone will asseverate) a verdant, shining of freshies catapulted down the sanctified corridors of Monmouth High and hung their hats on the fire hose!

They had yet to live and learn and some of them lived on, but they were so exhausted by living that they had no energy left to acquire any learning.

They excelled most freshies in the noble sport of basketball by their belligerence and would have won the tournament but for their infinitesimal dimensions. Most of them have overcome this imperfection now and the tall person is not the "rare bird" around the school.

They picked their class colors early and finally settled on yellow and black—yellow for peril that could come and black for despondency, for they had already learned the impossibility of bluffing the instructors. It is worthy of note that the now famous Stacomb Company chose these colors to decorate their boxes and jars with.

Last year, a boy from this most conspicuous and illustrious class represented the high school at the renowned Big Eight Boys' Declamatory Contest. This year a girl from this class represented the school at the Big Eight Girls' Declamatory Contest!

We have always been a convivial class having a representative in every club in this prodigious assemblage of social gatherings. (Two years have passed and a part of a third, but—more than ever most members of the school think that a high school is an institution supported by public taxes to promote and further the development of social assemblages.)

The years have passed with a monotonous homogeneity. The first year we played good basketball. The second year we played good basketball. The third year we played good basketball. But who doesn't admit that each year it became a better good. And this year we capped it all by having three basketball letter men and four football letter men!

The debate team, which by its honey-tongued constituency and magnitude of comprehension won for itself second place in the Big Eight Debate with Galesburg and Canton, consisted partly of Juniors.

The Junior play was particularly good this year. The cast was well picked and the play well directed.

The Juniors have been instrumental in many other unusual school activities and have many things to be proud of. And the most magnificent affair has just been held—the Junior-Senior banquet.

Sophomore Class History

Two years ago there came a class into Old Monmouth High, with every lad and every lass so green you'd blink your eye. The Seniors in the upper hall whizzed by us every day; a taunt they had in every call—that's all they had to say. In many ways, Alas! Alack! our little goat they got. At us they'd look so very black, that we'd vacate that spot. You wait, we'll make those scoffers wild, they'll lose their manly grit and say with faces meek and mild, "I'll take to the rear and sit."

Oh! in our class are specimens rare. When it comes to Shebas we'll say we reign, what can compete with De Mass's hair, Mac Holmes' wiggle, Numbers' brain? When it comes to basketball "Bill" Mann doth shine. When it comes to football Weaverling's the star; in flirting, Frances Cole excels by far; when it's talk, "Egg's got the line. And now that our bright green has faded out so light, that all hail now as color queen, the brilliant "Red and White."

So here's to the class of '25, and I think you'll find it true, if you look for a class that's really alive, you'll find we see things thru.

Freshman Class History.

If we dared not be original and faithfully endeavored to follow custom and tradition we would start this sketch as follows:

In the month of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, two hundred (or thereabouts) green little freshies entered the halls of M. H. S., etc., etc.,—But as this heading is to moth eaten to stand another season we shall commence again:

At the beginning of the school year for 1922-23, two hundred freshmen (who were neither undersized nor of a verdant hue) enrolled in Monmouth High. Like all the classes that ever entered this school since time began it was the best and is still going strong, as any upper classman who could unbend his neck sufficiently to even see our dust could testify.

The freshmen led the honor roll. A freshman won the preliminary girls' declamatory contest. The freshman always supported school activities.

They showed up a lot of good material in the roll room basketball games. They took third place in the interclass track meet.

We had two representatives at the Lombard Interscholastic meet. All around we won our laurels, but we're modest—so we'll quit.

(Signed) THE 200th.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Football Season

1 9 2 2

ALEXIS 0—MONMOUTH 25.

The Maroon and Gold opened its football season on September 30 by scoring an easy victory over Alexis High School. Coach Niergarth used fifteen men, giving the new men a chance to show their "stuff." All of them performed in the regular Monmouth style, even though they were somewhat handicapped by lack of experience. Welch, Sharp and Vance made excellent gains, with Gray and Buck not far behind in the stellar field.

STRONGHURST 12-MONMOUTH 6.

On Saturday, October 7, was scheduled a game to be played at Stronghurst, but owing to the hostility of the spectators at the afore mentioned game, it turned out too be the survival of the fittest. It was a hotly contested argument, with the Stronghurst aggregation as victors. Keister, Ralston, Lewis and Buck showed up well in the line. "Chuck" and "Mike" were the high lights, during the entire game, while Vance, Barr, Clark and McCutchan looked like good prospects for future use.

ROCK ISLAND 13-MONMOUTH 3.

This game was a hard fought and a clean battle. It was slow due to a wet, slippery field. Our backfield seemed able to penetrate the Rock Island line at any time and the first half, Monmouth completely outplayed the fast Rock Island team. The Islanders excelled in end runs and passes. "Mike" played a stellar game and made a pretty dropkick for Monmouth's three points. "Chuck" showed up well and played the same fine game he continued to play all season. . Weaverling and Vance played a part of the game.

QUINCY 6-MONMOUTH 7.

Too much credit cannot be given to the line for their share in winning this game. The entire team looked better in this bout than ever before. "Mike" and "Chuck" again played a stellar game against "The Missouri Valley Champions." This was a wonderful game to witness, although a little nerve racking. With a team playing like those boys did, M. H. S. will have some real football material next year.

BURLINGTON 14-MONMOUTH 26.

Monomuth continued winning by taking Burlington to the tune of 26-14."Sharpie" played good ball and "Fat" McCaslin who took "Chuck's" place, ably filled the vacancy. Keister, Talbot and Ralston started in the line. Capt. Buck was forced to leave the game on account of injuries, and McCutchan, who relieved him, played a good brand of football. Monmouth's points were made through two touchdowns, a safety and two field goals. Many fumbles were noticeable on the part of both teams. This, however, was the only thing which marred the play of either team.

CANTON 26-MONMOUTH 0.

Monmouth received an unexpected and severe walloping at Canton. "Mike" Gray, laid out in the first part of the game, came home on a stretcher with a badly injured back. The accident seemed to take the pep out of his team-mates, who failed to play up to their usual standard. "Chuck," Sharp and Vance showed up well for Monmouth.

MACOMB 24-MONMOUTH 0.

Entering the Macomb game with a badly crippled team, Monmouth was forced to take a beating in a game played in a sea of mud. The score does not show the realative merits of the two teams, however. The line played good ball and "Chuck" looked great again at fullback. Many fumbles marred the game, due to the sloppy field and light drizzle that fell. Capt. Buck and "Mike" did not play this game and other members of the team were not in the best of condition.

KEWANEE 6-MONMOUTH 25.

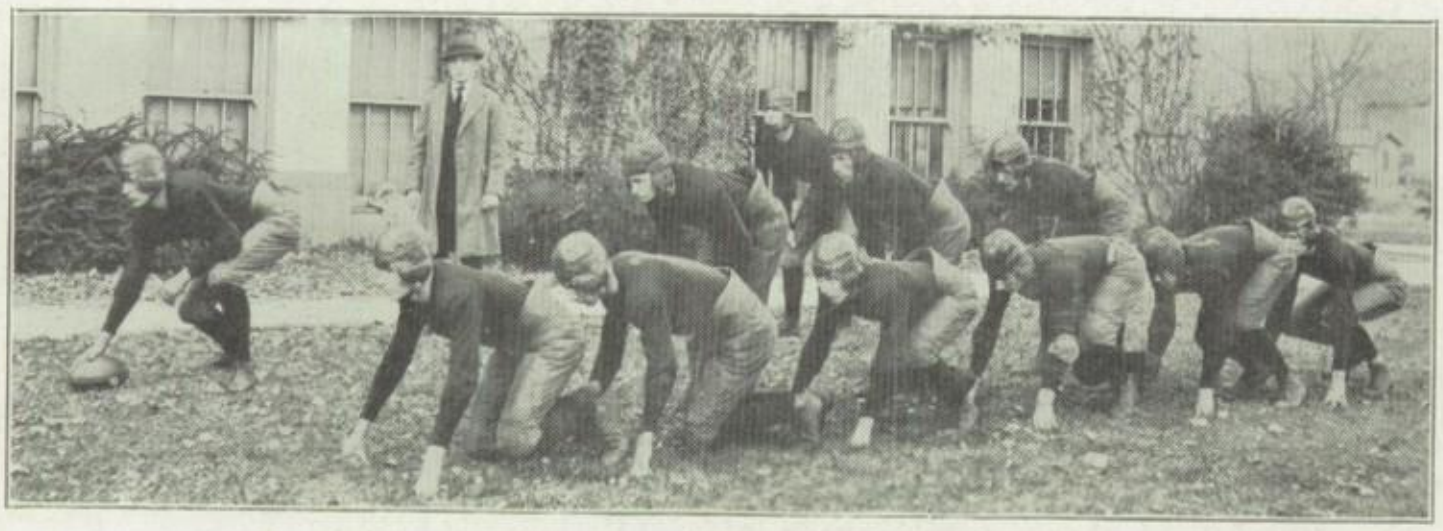
Finally the boys "snapped out of it" and took a good game from Kewanee. The first half looked well for Kewanee, but after that, they were gone. "Chuck" made three touch-downs and played an all-round stellar game. McCaslin scored a touch-down in the last quarter.

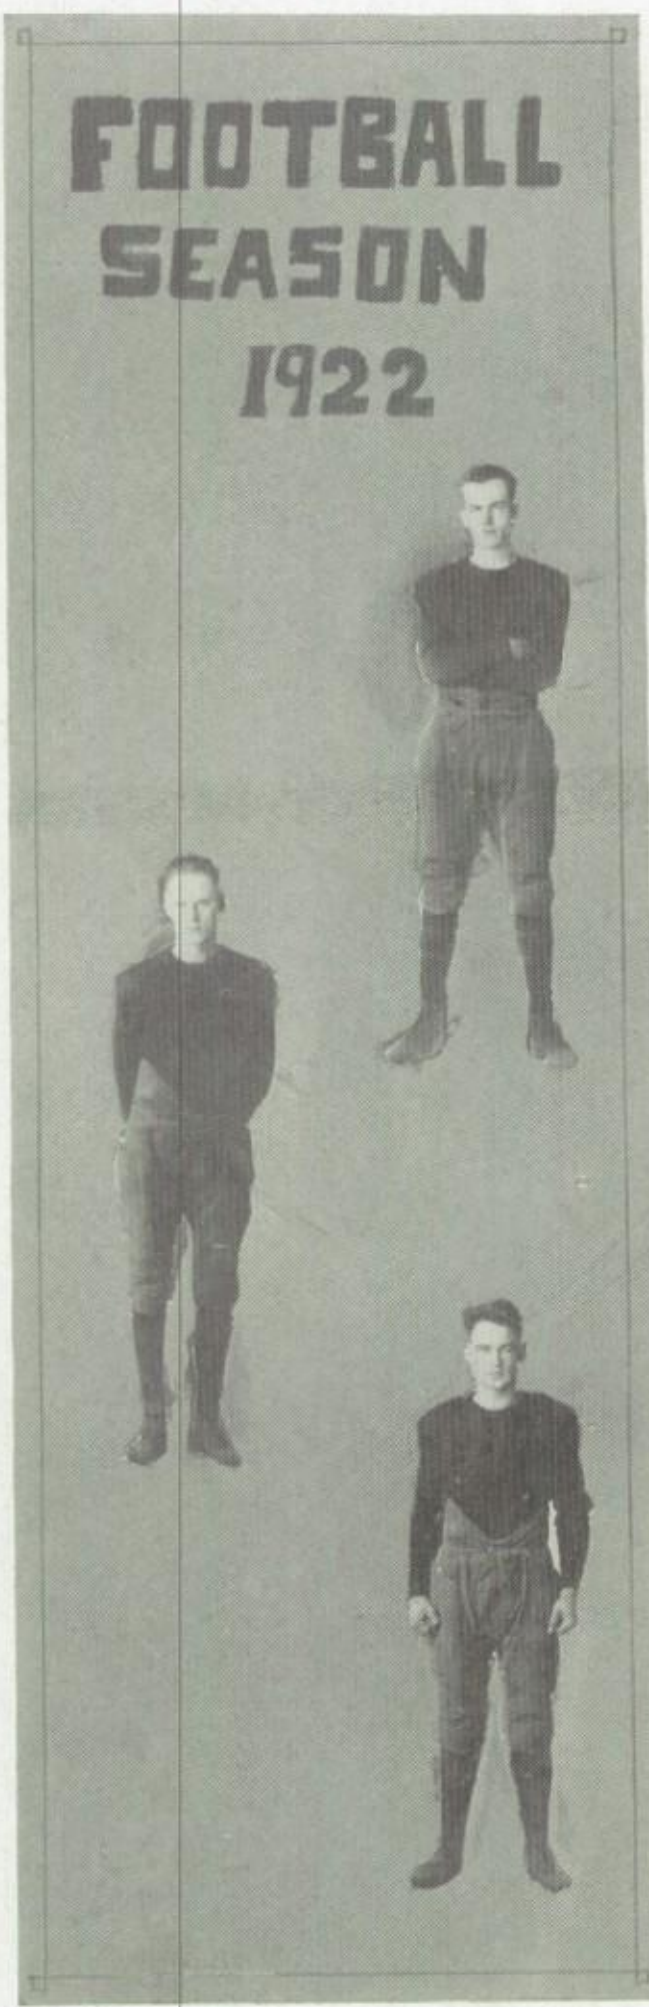
GALESBURG 12-MONMOUTH 0.

Playing football in no way inferior to the brand put up by G. H. S., the Maroon and Gold went down to a stinging defeat in the last game of the season. The defeat, as many will say, was chiefly due to the fact that we were unable to locate that indespensible object, "Lady Luck." The Monmouth line was a stone wall, playing a great game. For three quarters, the play was even and then it broke. "Chuck" made good gains and several pretty runs, and Gray's punting was exceptional in this final performance of the season:

Record of the Season

Alexis	0	M. H. S.	25
Stronghurst	12	M. H. S.	6
Quincy	6	M. H. S.	7
Burlington	14	M. H. S.	26
Canton	26	M. H. S.	0
Macomb	24	M. H. S.	0
Kewanee	6	M. H. S.	25
Galesburg	12	M. H. S.	0





BUCK (CAPTAIN)

Buck, Captain and end, was an outstanding man in his position. Altho Bub did not play in several games due to injuries, he played brilliant football through much of the season. He was punter and passer, and much of the team's strength was due to Bub. He graduates.

KEISTER (CAPTAIN ELECT).

Keister, next year's captain, played center in every game, but one, when he took his place as full back and there showed his ability as a line backer as well as line smasher. We expect Oley to make us a good team next year. Oley has one more year.

WELCH.

Welch, our star fullback, came from Ames and gave us another brilliant season. He plays a fast, dodging game and was responsible for much of our scoring. "Chuck" is a Senior.

GRAY.

Gray was one of the most valuable men on the team. A spectacular punter and passer, coupled with quick thinking and acting. "Mike" deserted us not long after the close of the football season.

SHARP.

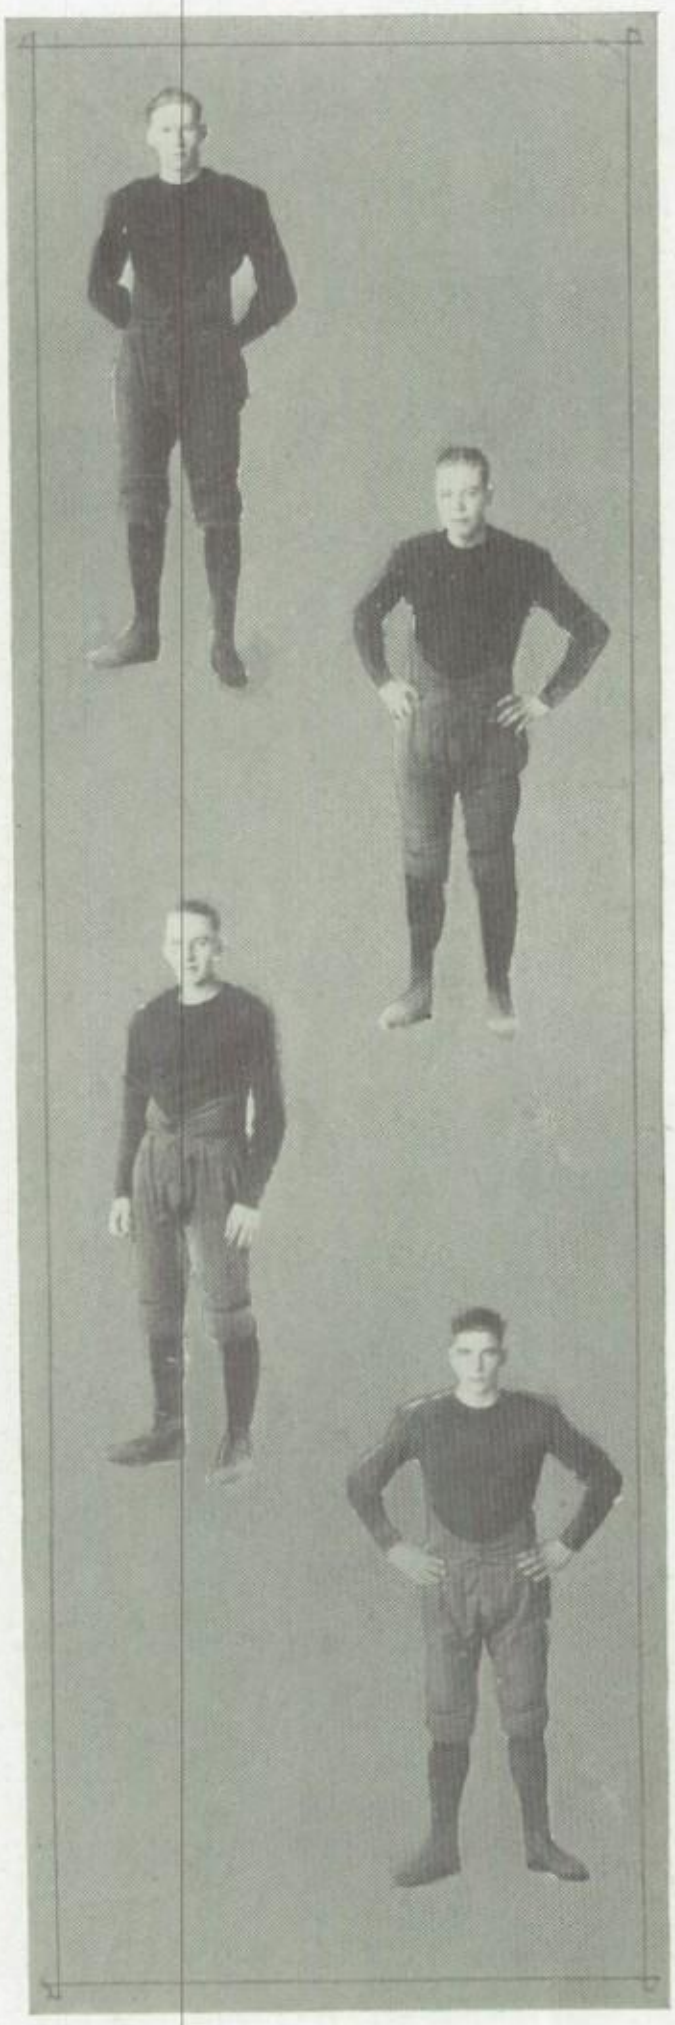
Sharp was a star at returning punts and so hard they couldn't hurt him. Sharp showed his superior kicking ability, when he twice passed the ball over the bar from the thirty yard line. "Sharpie" leaves us this spring.

WEAVERLING.

Weaverling, the smallest man on the team, made up for all lack of size in pep and fight. "Bill" was always a reliable man to fall back on. He is a Sophomore.

VANCE.

Vance was utility man who played in any position from end to quarter. He was a light but fast player, and played in the majority of games. "Bugger" is a Senior.



McCUTCHAN.

McCutchan entered the season with very little football experience, but as the season progressed, his work at end became more and more noticeable until at the end of the season he was an experienced and excellent football man. This year finishes McCutchan's High School career.

LEWIS.

Lewis was our star tackle, playing hard and fast every minute. "Tommy" was a safe and reliable man. He intends to graduate—Well he might.

McCASLIN.

McCaslin started the season in the line, but soon arrived in the backfield, and proved a good fullback. He was one of our high point getters. "Fat" will be a Senior next fall.

BARR.

Barr playing guard and plugging up a big hole in the line, played his position in great shape. Although handicapped by the lack of experience he proved an indespensable man to the team. Barr is a Junior.

KRUIDENIER.

Kruidenier played a good game at end, completing several forward passes and getting down under punts. This was John's only opportunity to bring victory to M. H. S., as his experience was gained in other schools. This, then is John's last year.

TALBOT.

Talbot played guard and was in his position during every game of the season. With the strength of a gorilla coupled with good football sense he succeeded in crushing his opponent at almost every blow. John is a Senior.

CLARK.

Niergarth discovered Clark in early season and made him a fast plugging halfback. It is his intention to give us a still better game next year. This is Clark's third year.

RALSTON.

Ralston playing tackle, was a hard hitting, consistent player. He played every quarter and always outfought his opponent. "Herbie" is looking for a diploma.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Basketball Season

1922-1923

Through all the ups and downs of the season, Mr. Clark stood by the team and gave them his best in training and support. Notwithstanding the heavy class room work he was carrying, and the long illness of Mrs. Clark, he did not spare himself when the interest of basketball was at stake.

The game which opened the 1922-23 season was played with Farmington on their home floor. The score 27-26 was close, to say the least, and although Monmouth did not get the big end of the score, the boys felt that it was a good start for the season. "Chick" made all but two of the points for Monmouth. The last five minutes of play were more than exciting, for in them "Chick" made thirteen of the 26 points.

The game here with Kirkwood, although a score winner for the team, was a voice loser for the crowd. The necessity of having two overtime periods caused such interest and excitement that the game will not soon be forgotten. And what's more Monmouth was victorious 12-8.

On the following Friday night, Monmouth rooters had the opportunity of witnessing another overtime game. The two teams were on an even footing during the greater part of the game, but our fellows got the edge on the visitors from Burlington in the latter part of the fray and at the blowing of the final whistle led their opponents by one point, 15-14.

Our next game was played with Mt. Pleasant, and here as previously, the team showed up in fine style. Here again, our boys, after a hard game, were the victors by a score of 23-22.

The "subs" played the greater part of the return game with Kirkwood. It was good football practice, only there wasn't room for much of a run. During the first part of the game, our boys led, but as the fray progressed they gradually lost out, until at the end we were defeated 17-11.

Macomb had a dandy team and showed excellent training. Crispin of Burlington refereed very closely and as neither team was used to being held in check, some time was lost on account of the numerous technical fouls called. The visitor's team work was superior to ours which was largely responsible for the result of the game, closing with a score of 27-14 for Macomb.

During the first half of the home game with Galesburg, the two teams seemed very evenly matched. Early in the third quarter, "Chick" was laid out, which seemed to take the life out of the remaining members of the team. Galesburg made baskets, seemingly without effort. The game ended with a score of 32-16 in favor of the visitors.

Quincy evened up things for their defeat in football in a game played on their floor. At no time during the entire game did our men give up the ship as lost. They fought till the last echo of the referee's whistle died away, and although they did not acknowledge the defeat, it was put down in the book of history as such. We were defeated 46-14.

Kewanee made a flashy showing at the beginning of the game here, however, "Chick" soon warmed up and with Sandy and McCaslin feeding him the ball, he was able to throw baskets from nearly any angle. The game closed with Monmouth winning 30-16.

The return game with Galesburg was close and fast. Mann threw a basket at the outset of the game, and kept up the good work playing guard. Kruidenier played a good game as forward, making three goals. It was nip and tuck between the two teams throughout the game, as was shown by the final score which was 24-23.

We here filled an open date with Cuba, and played them on their floor. The size of the floor accounts for the size of Cuba's score. It is a well known fact that the home team will get a score inversely proportional to the size of their floor. This game strengthened this theorem in the minds of many. We lost 53-21.

On the way home the boys stopped at Abingdon. The game here was fast and interesting. "Chick" was again the high point man. After the strenuous game of the previous night, our men were in no condition to do much to Abingdon, and although no one quit fighting, the game went against them. We were defeated 31-19.

At the annual basketball tournament, we were elated by the announcement that we had won 26-25, but three hours later when the fellows were resting for the next contest, word came to them that the referee had reconsidered his decision and that as a result the game of the morning should go to our opponent, the Bushnell team. Of course, the team felt that the correct decision should have been rendered at first, and thus saved the resulting disappointment.

Although the team did not have at the end of the season as large a score as they might have wished, the team never lost their courage and held on to their fighting spirit to the end.

Girls' Basketball

The call for candidates for girl's basket ball was sent out immediately after Christmas vacation. Many girls responded and quite a number of practice games were played. Then, under the supervision of Miss Tucker, Roll Room teams were organized.

After these games the class teams were selected by Miss Tucker and the Roll Room Athletic Managers.

A class tournament was played, each team meeting the other teams twice.

The result was:

	No. of games played.	No. of games won.
First Juniors	6	5
Second—Seniors	6	4
Third—Freshman	6	3

From these class teams, Miss Graham and Miss Bishop picked the all star team. These girls were considered as the most capable of playing their positions and received "M's."

The All Star Team:

Forwards—Pearl Long, Marie Miller.
Guards—Sarah Fernald, Jane Foust.
Center—Eunice Fauland.

Boys' Inter-Class Basketball.

The inter-class basketball games were played at the armory as curtain raisers to the varsity matches.

The Juniors found little trouble in downing the Seniors, and although the latter put up a hard fight, the Juniors came out with much the bigger end of the score.

Soon after, the Juniors and Sophs. met and again the third year men were easy victors. Although, as the Seniors, the Sophs showed a determination to win, it proved fruitless. And the Juniors were one step farther towards attaining the championship.

The third game was played between the Juniors and Freshmen, and here, the hopeful champions nearly met defeat. The Freshies displayed strong signs of winning until the latter part of the game, when the Juniors made a spurt and were victors 7-5.

The Seniors and Freshmen again played the Juniors, but as before the Well's team were victors. As a result of these two victories, the Juniors were declared champions.

Such games are a great material-builder for future teams, and much promising material was discovered for next year.

Team Members:

Freshmen—Stripe, Sneath, Watt, Wells and Kelley.

Sophomores—Whiteleather, Shook, Hughes, Blair and McMahon.

Juniors—Zea, Teare, Wells, VanTine, McKee, Keister and Pattison.

Seniors—Lewis, Sharp, Vest, Welch and Root.

Track Season of 1923.

After a lapse of two years, track work was revived again this year. Although handicapped by the lack of a field and equipment of our own, a great deal of interest has been shown on the part of the student body as well as the track men. At the present time we cannot accurately predict the success of the season, but judging from the material which is working under the direction of Mr. Fetherstone, we cannot help but feel confident of a fine showing for M. H. S.

On April 5th, a preliminary cross-country meet was held, preparatory to the inter-class Cross-country run which was held on April 13th. This event was won by the Sophomores with the Seniors, second; and the Freshmen, third. Ten points were allowed to the winners of this event toward the silver cup given by the class of '08 for the encouragement of inter-class athletics.

On April 20, the Seniors won first in the inter-class meet held at the college field. Although no records were broken the interest shown speaks well for track next year.

Monmouth High was represented at the Lombard Invitational meet on April 28 by Welch, in the field events; Sandy and Stripe, in the dashes; and Sneath, McCutchan and Dyer, in the distance events. "Chuck" tied for third in the pole vault and high jump, in very fast competition, and looks like a high point winner this year. Captain McCutchan has been stepping the half and quarter in excellent time, and should annex a a number of points. Briley, also a Senior, is heaving the javelin like a veteran. Other likely point winners include Sandy, Stripe, Lieper in the dashes, Cannell, Dyer, Pattison in the distance events and Talbot in the weights.

M. H. S. is sending only two representatives to the Bradley meet, but has entered eleven men in the Big Eight which is held this year at Moline, Monmouth will give her best and push the winner to the limit. Here's to the success of the team and coach for next season.

Tennis.

Thirty-three players competed in the fall singles tournament, played on the local courts. The survivals of elimination matches were Harold Kniss and DeWitt Schell who clashed in a hard fought final tournament in which Kniss succeeded in taking three of the five sets.

Spring activities of the Tennis Club have been directed by Robert McMahon, as President, and Gertrude Torrance, as Secretary and Treasurer. Hal Pattison, Max Rodgers and William Weaverling made up the grounds committee and the membership has been handled by Everett Stark, Kathryn Sweeney and Donald Beste.

The club has succeeded in getting the courts in good shape and new tape has been laid and excellent tarred nets make the tennis equipment first class.

The boys' singles of the spring tournament will be played to determine the winner of a valuable racquet offered by the Hood-Powell Sporting Goods Store.

Interest in tennis has not been confined to the students alone, and most fine days find both the lady and men of the faculty cheerfully accepting defeat at the hands of various club members.

Literary.

Affirmative Debate Team.

The same day that the Negative team met Canton Affirmative here, our Affirmative team met the Galesburg Negative there. The members of the team were Marshall Briley, Eula V. Moore and Max Rogers, with Hal Pattison as Alternate.

Although the team lost by a three to nothing decision, they put up a good fight, Marshall Briley ranking first in the individual ranking of the two teams.

Since only Marshall, Jeanne and Eula V. are leaving this year, the prospects for next year are very bright.

Mr. Fetherstone, the coach, deserves much credit for his untiring efforts which made it possible for our school to have two such excellent teams.

Negative Debate Team.

As a result of the debates held the evening of March 16, 1923, Galesburg was winner of the triangle. Canton affirmative met Monmouth negative at home, Monmouth winning by a three to nothing decision.

The question for debate was "Resolved that the Federal Government shall own and operate the coal mines of the United States." The team was composed of: Jeanne Pattison, McKinney Phelps and Marian Jacobs. The alternate for the team was Barr Miller.

Our team showed excellent ability and was ranked very high by the Judges. Jeanne Pattison ranked second in the individual ranking of both teams.

Girls' Declamation Teams.

On the evening of February 12, the preliminary contest for the Girls' Triangular Declamation Contest was held. Thirteen of our girls read, six being chosen as representatives for the Triangular Declamation Contest between Canton, Galesburg and Monmouth.

Bernice Young, taking third in the preliminary went to Canton where she took third. Her selection was "Danny."

Edna Spicer with the reading "The Boy Who Wanted to be Spanked" took sixth place in preliminary, but in Canton was given the highest percentage and, consequently, the first place was awarded her.

The second place in the preliminary contest was given to Doris Fetherston. Doris remained at home in the Triangular, contesting with Galesburg winning first place. She read, "On Contest Night."

Marion Craine reading, "Gwen's Challenge" took fourth place in the preliminary.

Marion also contested at home taking fourth place.

First honors in the preliminary contest were given to Mary Alice Brimmer, who went to Canton in the Triangular there, receiving second place. Her reading was, "Nixie Dixon of the Neighborhood."

"The Soul of the Violin" was read by Marjorie Zea, who took fifth place in the preliminary. She remained at home in the Triangular.

Girls' Declamation

Monmouth was represented by Doris Fetherston in the Girls' Big Eight Declamation Contest, held in Galesburg, February 26, 1923. Monmouth retained her high standard by winning second place.

Doris read, "On the Night of the Contest." Much credit is due Doris for the effort put forth in winning so high a place for M. H. S.Her ranking was high, one judge giving her a first place. Since Doris is notleaving yet, the High School has great hopes for the following year.

Boys' Declamation.

Our representative at the Boy's Big Eight Declamation Contest was Robert White. The Contest was held in Moline December 8, 1922. Davenport won first place; "Bob" taking fourth.

Robert's selection was, "Ole Mistus." M. H. S. appreciates the time and efforts spent for her, that she might place among the first in the contest and sincerely hopes that there will be others who will keep her standard high in the years to come.

Student Body Government.

Though a new thing in Monmouth High School, the idea of Student Body Government seems to have taken well.

In the fall, a heated election was held and Monmouth High School was so plastered up with notices of one kind or another proclaiming the merits of the different candidates, that it was barely recognizable. Soon after the election, the Board of Control was organized. It consists of five representatives from the Senior Class, five representatives from the Junior Class, two class presidents, and the officers of the Student Body Association.

After this body had begun to function with some degree of success, the House of Representatives was organized. It is composed of the Roll Room presidents and the officers of the Student Body Association. At the first meeting of the House, Henry Buck was elected Speaker of the House.

The purpose of Student Body Government are as follows: First, to promote good conduct. self-control, and trustworthiness, to provide opportunity for co-operation in the internal government of the school, to give training in citizenship, to foster a spirit of unity and secure support for all authorized activities in our school.

Second, we recognize that all successful High Schools must be adequately governed and controlled; that the authority for such control delegated to the students is a trust and an opportunity not to be regarded lightly.

This venture has worked better than its most hearty supporters had hoped for and it will be continued in M. H. S. next year.

The Clipper.

The Clipper is a publication issued by the Junior class. It portrays the life, spirit and activites of Monmouth High School.

The staff, the past year was an exceptional one, and with the able leadership of the editor, Donald Beste, published a periodical that would do credit to a high school much larger than our own.

The business end of it was efficiently managed by Percy Wells. The department heads showed unusual ability, and the Clipper as a whole was a howling success.

ADVISORS.

Miss Servatius. Miss Tucker.

The past year will go on record as one of the most successful in the history of the Society.

Our membership is made up of real live girls and it is as a result of their efforts that Excelsior ranks so high among the organizations of the school. Our programs have been unusually successful our open meeting the first of the year in the form of a Minstrel Show, proving an unqualified success.

At the first of the year the Pierians joined with the Excelsiors and gave their annual "Mixer," which was enjoyed by most of the girls of M. H. S. Our annual May Breakfast proved a delightful affair and as usual was the event of the year.

Although we lost in our basket-ball game with the Pierians, our girls proved their worth along literary lines. Two of our girls received first places in the triangle declamation, one of them placing second in the Big Eight Contest, and a third placing first in the tryouts. Excelsior had the privilege of having the only girls on the Debate Teams and they proved what hard work and perseverance can do. Altogether the year has been a success and too much credit cannot be given to the advisors, Miss Tucker and Miss Servatius.

Miss Gayer. Miss Guild.

Another successful year may be added to the many successful years of the Pierian Literary Society.

We have a large membership, and among the members there are girls who are talented along both musical and literary lines, also girls who proved to be star basketball players.

Our meetings are held every two weeks, and this year's programs have been exceptionally good as each girl was ready to do her part in making the programs interesting. Much credit is due to our advisors for making this year successful.

As has been customary for a number of years, the Excelsiors joined with the Pierians in giving the annual "Mixer" at the first of the year for all the girls of M. H. S. The party was in the form of a masquerade, and everyone present regretted it very much when the time came to disperse.

The big event of the year, the "M" banquet was held in May. The affair proved a great success.

We hope that the Pierians will be as "peppy," and put on just as good programs in the future as they have in the past, so that every girl can well be proud of the name Pierian.

The Lincoln Club started out very successfully this year, and with Mr. Moffett as advisor it had a very efficient guide. About the middle of the year the club took a slump, but it came out of it with pep.

The activities of the club are many and varied. It's primary purpose is to train its members in the art of public speaking and debate, As a result of this work six of the members made the debate squad. It had been an excellent training class and its members have profited by their work.

The purpose of this organization is to create, maintain and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian living.

During the year the club took up a Bible Study Course. One week a prominent business man would talk on a subject of vital importance to the fellows. The following week the club would divide into two groups, the lower-classmen under Harold Fitch, and the upper-classmen under Bruce B. Brady and discuss thoroughly the topic of the week.

The Hi-Y Club was largely influential in making the Older Boy's Conference a success.

The Hi-Y Club has brought the fellows into closer relationship with each other, and it is hoped that next year the club may be still larger and better than this year.

Girl Reserves.

The third year of the Girl Reserves has been a very successful one. Besides raising the money to adopt an Armenian orphan, the organization has been very well known in other activities. Our meetings, every Tuesday evening, have been very interesting as well as instructive.

Students of M. H. S. have been shown what the Girl Reserves can do by successful sandwich sales, candy sales and "Daddy." You all remember "Daddy," the comedy given under the auspices of the Girl Reserves.

This organization is more universal than any of the other organizations for girls. The goal we are trying for is not merely a mental one, but also deals with the spiritual and moral characteristics of the girls' lives. We, as members of the Society, are proud of the achievements.

"Anytime, all the time, ever able and willing," is the standard which members of the organization try to live up to, and we think, although it has been a difficult task, that we have very creditably succeeded.

Code:

I will keep my sympathies warm, and my spirit alert, for I would hear the King when he calls me to service.

I will keep my body clean and strong, for it is the temple of the Holy Spirit.

I will train my intellect, that it may do my bidding, for great tasks await me.

The Marconi Club was organized the first of October under the competent direction of Mr. Clark. The Club was handicapped at first by the lack of apparatus, but it has now developed a first class receiving station.

Although the club is rather small its members have learned a great deal about Radio and are all "real fans."

The Perethenian Club was organized by Mr. Perrine, the last of the first semester, for the Honor Students. The qualifications for membership are three E's and one G, for two six week's periods. Only those who have filled these qualifications realize the hard work that goes with such grades.

Although a comparatively new organization, and despite the fact that the membership qualifications are stiff, the Club has a membership of 76, a splendid record for any school, and M. H. S. is mighty proud of her honor students.

Junior Class Play.

"Mary Anne" was one of the most successful plays ever staged by any Junior Class. It well deserved the loyal support the school gave it.

Miss Helen McClenahan of the college who coached the play, earned the appreciation of the class, for it was due to a great extent to her efforts, that the play was the success which it proved to be.

Girl Reserves Play.

Everyone liked "Daddy." The Girl Reserves introduced him to us April 13 in the Assembly.

This comedy told of the many trials and difficulties of a girl who finally decided she didn't want a Papa (accented on the last syllable) but just her own "Daddy."

Miss White, Miss Gayer, and Miss Kruidenier kindly helped the G. R. stage the play.

Senior Class Day.

(March 17)

Shure and wasn't the green and white pretty on Senior Day? In honor of the occasion the Seniors marched around the assembly while the orchestra played Tipperary. Then gathering up in the front they sang their class song. A solo dance or two and a violin duet were given. "All For the Love of Mike" by the sextette ended things happily. Even old St. Pat himself must have been proud of us that day.

Senior Class Play.

The Senior Class presented the play "Adam and Eva" on the evening of May the 18th at the Pattee opera house.

The efforts of the father to cure a spoiled and selfish family form the main plot of the sparkling comedy. A large measure of the success of the play was due to the coach, Miss Marian Bliss, formerly of Monmouth High School.

Society.

Was it warm? You stated it correctly. And were we tired? Oh My! Were the frappe and wafers good? Delicious! The lawn was green (so were the freshmen) and the birds were singing sweetly. Come again Girl Reserves with your luncheon, we'll be there too.

Don't start so, it is only the girls planning their spooky costumes. Boys—"Keep Out!" But did they? Can you keep bees from flowers? No! Fairyland in Monmouth High that night. Was Edith Shimmin pretty? Positively! First prize said so. And Marie Carstensen funny? Ditto the prize. It was well named—The Mixer—and we felt like succotash. The Pierian and Excelsior girls even served ice cream sandwiches to make the mixer idea plainer. An enjoyable time? How foolish to ask.

A big moon—a few trees—rustling leaves, the usual setting. But Oh the wienies —big round fat juicy ones—better than ever! Lincoln club roast? Oh yes, twice; and other folks too.

We made the prettiest clothespin and crepe paper dolls; and that delightful program in the gym. Nine Rahs for the Old Pierian girls! We'll hope to do as well toward the new members when we're as aged.

Didn't you like it? The boys were splendid, and everything was so tasteful. Lincoln Club Ladies night? You're a good guesser! You remember the hotly contested debates? And then how worried "Red" looked when he sang? You've heard Allan laugh? Well he sang in the same key and tone. Those eats! "Worthy to be remembered." More next time.

Wasn't it great? Everyone so perfectly natural! Page the Junior actors. Better than last year? You might say YES and you might say NO, but a five to one chance the ayes have it.

Music.

M. H. S. Band.

Monmouth High School can well be proud of her band. Although only started last year, it has already ga ned quite a reputation as a musical organization.

During the summer months the band gave a series of concerts on the city square, so when school started in September it was already organized for the coming year with about thirty-five old and several new members.

During the first semester the band, under the direction of Mr. Niergarth, steadily improved, playing on several occasions for the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks, in Assemblies and often assisting the college band.

At the beginning of the second semester we were very sorry to lose the services of Mr. Niergarth, who was instrumental in the organization of the band, but a very competent leader was procured in Mr. McMillan.

The band is now preparing for a number of spring concerts. With Mr. McMillan as director, and Superintendent Munch boosting and interesting new boys in the band it is hoped that the band will have as brilliant a future as it has had a past.

The Dark Town Strutters.

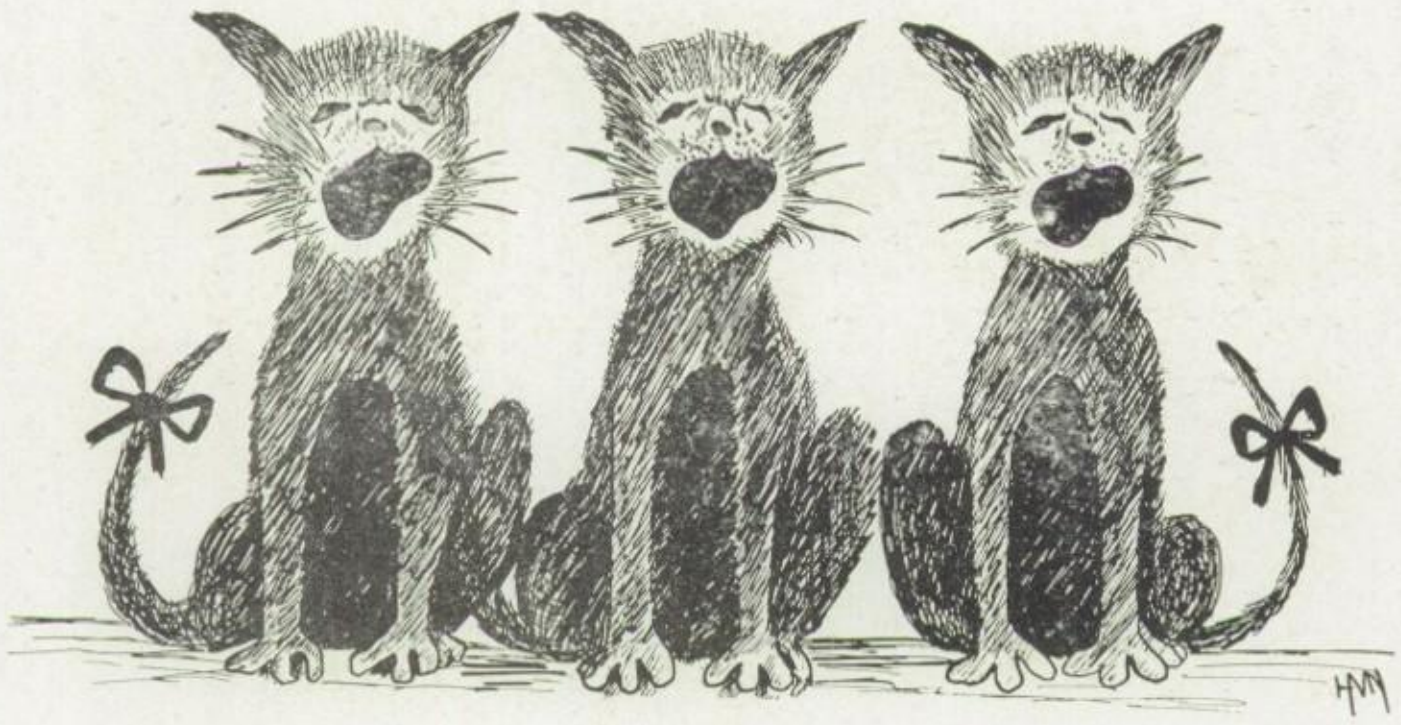
The Dark Town Strutters originated in the halls of M. H. S., and under the excellent training of one of our worthy pedagogues became a very popular minstrel troope of first class rank.

An assembly was called early in February for the purpose of launching the campaign for the sale of annuals. In order to arouse enthusiasm, The Dark Town Strutters were secured. It was a laugh from start to finish. Mr. Mach was inter-locular, with Vaselino Snowball (Rolland McConnell), and Flannette (Marshall Briley) as end men.

The program was a varied one. Rev. Hannibal Hexagon (Everett Stark) opened the program by delivering the invocation, but as you all well remember he had a serious accident caused by a mere sneeze. The rest of the show was chiefly made up of songs and jokes on local celebrities, each one went over strong and created an applause that came near removing the roof of the assembly. It was declared by all to be a grand success, and the company was urged to make a return engagement, but on account of the many demands for its services, it was forced to refuse to appear again before a High School audience.

The grade schools of Monmouth, learning of the popularity of the Dark Town Strutters, brought great pressure to bear upon the managers for an engagement, and on account of the urgent appeals, such an appointment was made. So, not many days afterward, with a slightly altered personnel, The Dark Town Strutters again performed before a Monmouth audience composed of the pupils of the four grade schools of the town. As before, they received hearty applause and with an excellent program gave each and every one thorough satisfaction for the time and money spent.

We hope that it will be possible to secure The Dark Town Strutters for future programs, for surely they are well versed in the "excellence" of music and the art of cracking jokes.



The Choral Society.

The Choral Society was organized early in the school year by Mrs. H. E. Clark. The society was made up of both boys and girls, and was well on the road to success when the director, Mrs. Clark was taken ill, and as a result was unable to resume her work as leader of the society. It was indeed unfortunate for the school as well as for the society, for the project was bound to have had a successful season.

From the society was picked a quartet. composed of John Kruidenier, Opal Henderson, Alice Gawthrope and Charles Welch. They appeared on several occasions, and were very enthusiastically received. However, they were at the same disadvantage as the rest of the society, and did not make as much of themselves as would have been possible had they had the opportunity.

It is hoped that the Choral Society will be revived next year and have the occassion to show that of which they are capable.

NOTED PUBLICATION SUES LOCAL EDITOR.

Attorneys representing the official organ of the Puritans, the Bizz Whang, are beginning action in a suit of national import suing Mr. Ronald Deste, editor of the Monmouth Phlipper, for plagiarism. Charges are made that the youthful editor has made indiscriminate use of their material by merely adding the names of local celebrities. WHO'S WHO IN M.H.S.

Tut Tut King Tut.

"Whoopee maw! Heap big cigar, black. For paw?" demanded Laughing Home-Brew from his mother. He had been named after one of his ancestors, Laughing Water.

"Him heap big fool, eat muddy cigars," replied his mother, Singing Sunbeam.

"Me no can help it. Shake a moccason," he answered.

Laughing Home-Brew's father was trying to spend part of his surplus money from his newly-discovered oil well by entertaining the Indian Club in the dollar room. It was the largest in the house, slightly longer than wide, and with a very low ceiling. The floor was of a vivid jade green tile, and silver dollars were set in a mossaic design. There were four fireplaces, and the grate doors were covered with dollars and even five-dollar pieces. Over each mantel hung yellow and green bills, framed in dollars. Upon the floor, in every possible corner, there were cuspidors, so many that some had been kicked under chairs to make more room. The dark, burly Indians spat at the high cuspidors with more or less accuracy.

In one corner a rather young Indian, surrounded by other young men, was lying on a William and Mary settee trying to blow smoke rings. The more he tried, the worse he got, until finally he jumped up, and with an oath said, "Mouth no can do. Brain no can do. Whoopee!" "Whoopee" seemed to be the family slogan.

The young Indians surrounded him. One addressed him, saying "Dimpled-Dew-drop, him not such heap big boy."

Dewdrop emitted a low growl, and added, "You one heap big fool. Cocoa gone nut. Ugh."

"Shut-down," said his friend, Scared-of-the-Dark.

"Get food, hungry," said Dimpled-Dewdrop. That was a false move on his side, for no sooner had he said it than the crowd started laughing and jeering at him for Dewdrop in a moment of thoughtless enthusiasm had made wager which involved a promise to eat any accessible remains of the food supply of a well known Egyptian tomb.

"Haw-haw, tee-hee, him heap big joke," said Scared-of-the-Dark, who seemed to be the company's spokesman. "Food come from Chief Tut," he continued "Him eat canned beef and cabbage then. Him no forgot bet. Me send for Chief Tut's canned beef. Smuggle it through. Hades! Cost hill of money. Him no eat—him lose bet. Then—him go to Unhappy Hunting Grounds with a Pay Day Wiggle on him."

This was a tremendous effort for Scared-of-the-Dark, and he rested while the others yelled, howled, and grunted. Suddenly Mr. Mud-and-Sand's voice sounded. "Clamp your mouths, papooses," he said. "In come flapper mother and her flappee."

All of the men swarmed toward the two women, eager to do some favor first.

"Whoopee! Whoopee! Whoopee!" shouted Laughing Home-Brew. "Heap big Moon car, take my tin soldiers riding in. Whoopee!"

"Shut," commanded his brother, impatiently. This was followed by curses, not deep—but very loud.

"Hades," he said. "Heap big box canned beef come from Chief Tut. Ugh."

The canned beef had come. The cans were wrapped in French satins, laces and ribbons to represent powder cans. Dimpled-Dewdrop wished that they were what they professed to be. He would have to eat the black, smelly stuff. As if coming from a trance, he shouted, "Whoopee! Me heap big idea." As he said this the door opened, and in filed Scared-of-the Dark, the twins, Hit-'em-High and Hit-'em-Low, and several others. Each carried a beribboned can in one hand, and a huge can-opener in the other. They broke the lids, poured out some of the semi-hard black stuff and handed it to Dimpled-Dewdrop. At first he delicately nibbled at it, then he took heaping forkfulls. "More, more," he yelled. "Heap big good. Gimme more, more."

"Tell us taste," said Hit-'em High.

"No have time. Taste yourself," answered D. Dewdrop.

They did. Not taking dainty bites, they stuffed their mouths full, and swallowed a great deal before they really tasted it. When they did they screeched and jumped around, throwing at each other anything that they could reach, from haviland china-ware to cast iron watches. Into the midst of this Mr. Mud-and Sand came, perking the boys around and setting them in chairs.

"Grrr-fff, what you eat?" he asked.

"Chief Tut's canned beef," answered Scared-of-the-Dark. "Ugh, my stomach at ptomaine poisoning. Ugh."

Whoopee! You big fools," said Mud-and-Sand. "Go sleep in tepee. Me buy much pale-face medicine. Spend hill of money. Scoot."

True to his word. Mud-and-Sand purchased wildly of patent panaceas of all kinds and injected the most astonishing quantities and combinations into his helpless patients. If medicine does any good, the more the medicine, the more the good, was the modus operandi of his reasoning and money was no consideration with an oil king.

On the fifth day after the beef eating, Mud-and-Sand was walking near the tepee. He heard some growls and moans, and went in. He had almost forgotten them he was so interested in his hospital. He gasped as he entered, he could tell that two of the Indians were dead, and the other three were really dying. "Whoopee," he yelled and then fled.

Four days later was funeral day on Mud-and-Sand's farm. He was ashamed that he had not called a physician, but he was not sorry.

After the funeral, he said to his wife, Singing-Sunbeam, "Me heap big poor man. Got no money, all go to morgue."

She answered, "Whoopee! Me heap big glad, tired being rich."

"Poor, poor, he said. "Me glad, me happy. Fun being poor."

Just then there was the crunching sound of wheels on the driveway, and the sound of footsteps on the porch. They both went to the door, and a clerk handed them a letter, then departed.

They opened it, a draft for fourteen million dollars from their oilstock investments.

Class Prophery.

From Miss Hunter's Diary, for the Year 1933.

June 5, 1933, Chicago, Illinois.

I began looking up the Seniors of the class of '23 today and although it seems an endless task, I feel that I have made some progress. I picked up a Tribune to read this morning and I noticed the following articles:

NEW ASSISTANT OF TRIBUNE.

Mr. Maurice McCrackin, a promising young man in the newspaper world, was today made Assistant Editor of the Tribune. He is a very brilliant man and has made rapid progress in the few years that he has been in this line of work. Mr. McCrackin was formerly of Monmouth, Illinois

POPULAR VIOLINIST MARRIED.

Miss Lois Walters, a favorite violinist of this city, was married yesterday at 6:30 p. m., to Mr. John Wells of Monmouth, Illinois. Miss Walters is also from that city, but for the past few months has been making a tour with the "M Trio." The other members are the Misses Grace Fetherston, pianist, and Helen Numbers, Soprano, both of Monmouth.

Diary, I always knew that Maurice would "rise up and shine" and if I had given it a thought I might have known that Lois would marry John.

June 6, 1933.

Diary, this is the month of June, and it certainly must have done something to the class of '23, for I noticed in today's paper that Edith Shimmin, Kathryn Sweeney, and Grace Riggle had all been married. Edith Married a young doctor, whom I don't know, Grace is helping run a poultry farm, and Kathryn—yes, Diary, it was Francis Hamblin.

I was sitting in the hotel lobby when I read about them, and I had barely revived and decided to write to them, when I noticed two young women in a corner, typewriting. I decided correctly, that they were public stenographers, and went over to dictate my letters, when I stopped amazed—for I recognized Ruth Anderson and Sarah Mary Witte.

JUNE 7, 1933, 9:00 A. M.

Well, Diary, I am going out again today on my quest for the Seniors of '23. I've had such marvelous success so far that I wonder whom I shall find or hear of today.

11:00 P. M. I had a very bad head-ache this morning so on my way down to the beauty parlor, where I had an appointment, I stopped in at a prosperous looking drug-store to get some Asperin, and whom do you think I saw? Why, Raymond Killey came up and asked me if there was something he could do for me, and then we recognized each other, and I had quite a talk with him. He said that Robert White also had a drug-store in Chicago, and gave me his address. I must look "Bob" up., I went on to the beauty parlor, and whom should I find there but Lillian Starr and Dorothy Jones, as happy as ever, and when I inquired about Ellen Diggs, they told me that she had become a very successful missionary worker.

I wandered around all morning and didn't seem to be able to find trace of anyone I knew. I finally went to dinner and to my surprise I found that I knew the head waiter. I studied her for some time and then it dawned on me that it was Verna Murphy. I enjoyed my lunch and decided I'd start out again. I walked for some time, and then remembered that I had intended to get a shoe-shine that morning but had neglected to do so. I wondered where I should go, for I was some distance from my hotel and just then I heard someone singing merrily and I turned around to see a smiling faced young man standing in the doorway of a shoe-shining parlor. I went over and was having my shoes shined when the fellow looked up at me with a grin that I could not fail to recognize—it was Wayne Smiley.

I passed by a motion picture theatre and being tired I decided to go in, if only for a rest. I got in just in time to see some vaudeville acts. A man was going through some fine juggling stunts and I finally recognized him as Dale McWilliams. I was very much surprised for I had never thought of Dale's doing anything like that, but the acts which followed surprised me almost as much. Merwin Runbeck, as a slight of hand performer, Everett Sharp and Rolland McConnell, as comedians, entertained us next. Later I learned that the four of them had formed a company and were making good as well as having the time of their lives. From the picture which followed, I thought sure that all of my Seniors had gone into the movies. William Giltner was the leading man and his leading lady was Ferne Bricker, while Louise Findley took the part of the maid, Lloyd Sandy and Charles McPherren the parts of the robbers, and Marshall Romine was the policeman.

Well Diary, I am very weary, but I think I have had wonderful success in my quest, don't you?

JUNE 8, 1933.

After I started out this morning it wasn't long before I decided that I would have to get a pair of shoes that were more comfortable as I intended to continue on my quest so I hunted up a shoe store and went in. Verna Brooks and Dorothy Foster both came forward to wait on me and as soon as I regained my breath, I found that Marjorie Bowman was the owner of the store, which proved to be a fashionable ladies' bootery.

I am glad to see that some of the girls are going into business. It will do them good. Marjorie told me that several of the other girls were engaged in business also; Louise Matson has a millinery shop and Sarah Fernald has a cat farm.

JUNE 9, 1933.

Of course some of the class had to be teachers. I found out today that Florence Chewning has been teaching in Missouri; Louise Noonan is teaching Economics; Permelia Donaldson, Domestic Science; Laura Shauman and Marie Miller, Physical Training; B. J. McMahon is the athletic coach at M. H. S.; and Blake Root the Coach at Chillicothe; Lois Blackstone, Dorothy Templeton, and Edgar Fox are country school teachers, and Gertrude Duncan is teaching dancing.

Well, by the time they are a few years older I wonder whether they will be glad that they are teaching.

This evening I got reckless and went to a vaudeville show, but I was really glad that I did for among the dancers I recognized Zelda Witt, Josephine Robinson, Maybelle Weegar, and Gerald Vest.

JUNE 10, 1933.

I noticed in this morning's paper that Miss Eula V. Moore, had made a very remarkable speech in congress. Eula V. is a congresswoman from Illinois, and Henry Buck is senator from Illinois. John Kruidenier is a distinguished lawyer in the East. They all have unusual ability and I know that they will make good. Marshall Briley and Anson Coan have become famous electrical engineers.

I went to a music club program this afternoon with an old friend and to my surprise, Gail Arthurs and Edna McClintock took part. They have a bright future before them if they continue with their music, for they are both much above the average. My friend is having her home re decorated and she tells me that her docorator's name is Margaret Williams. I never thought of Margaret's doing anything like that, but then, most of them have surprised me.

JUNE 11, 1933.

I was rather tired this morning and was just reading quietly in the lobby when a young woman came up to me and began showing me a book, entitled "The Art of Making Love." I hate agents so I paid little attention to her until I heard her say that the outhor of the book was a young woman named Jeanne Pattison, and remembering the name, I looked at the agent more closely and I recognized her. It was Nellie Livingston and I learned from her that Jeanne has become an author of renown.

I went to a base-ball game this afternoon and whom do you think was their big player? Thomas Lewis! It was a very thrilling game and "Tommy" surely did some fine playing.

To-night. I attended the opera and I haven't enjoyed anything so much for a long time. Charles Welch sang, I always thought that he had a good voice when he was in High School, but it is simply marvelous now. He not only sings, but has become a noted composer.

JUNE 12, 1933.

Today is Sunday and I wandered around trying to decide where to go to church and finally drifted into a Swedish Lutheran, of which Everett Stark was the pastor. He is a fine preacher. I saw him after the service and he gave me interesting news of several of the class of '23. Edna Spicer, Opal Henderson, and Evelyn McKelvey are all missionaries. Evelyn is a medical missionary in India.

I went home and pondered on the various ones of the class whom I had succeeded in locating and their occupations range very widely, and still as a whole they are getting on in the world in a commendable manner.

JUNE 13, 1933.

As I was walking down Broadway this morning I noticed in the doorway of the Model a dignified looking young man whom I soon recognized as Charles Lawrence. He has recently purchased the Model and is evidently a prosperous business man. Charles told a lot of news of the class of '23.

To begin with Kenneth Stott is a coal merchant; Louise Bell is a librarian; Grace Boyer is a story teller in the library; Olive Bullock is still at Wirtz's book store; Beulah Pratt is the stenographer at the Hankow; and Albert McCutchan is the ticket-seller there. Haskell Dyer is the agent for the Santa Fe railroad at Nemo; James Leary owns a dairy not far from town; John Talbot is a road contractor; Herbert Ralston is so deeply engrossed in trying to make out the philosophy of a foot-ball that people fear he is losing his mind; Ralph Davies, Radio Ralph is in charge of broadcasting station X. Y. Z. at Nemo; Millard Howren is a stenographer somewhere in Burlington; Ralph Phelps, George Thieme, Wylie Spicer, Arnot Keating and Jack McCreary are farmers, although Jack spends most of his time in town.

After such a lengthy talk with Charles I went into Allen's and there I saw Lucile Boylen. She is a clerk there and she sees most of the class who live around here. Edna Messenger is the stenographer at the Ten Cent Store; Margaret and Mary Connell are matrons of an orphans' asylum at Jacksonville; Minnie Hall, Dorothy Higgins, Helen Clark, Gladys Tipton and Gladys Armstrong are married and living in the country near here; Gladys Thieme is a very successful rural teacher; she makes her school the center of all the life of the community; Dorothy White is suffering from a nervous breakdown caused by too much worry and Pauline Whaling, who is a nurse, is taking care of her.

Diary, I have come to the end of the list; one by one I have checked off the names of the Seniors of '23. and at last I have finished. It was a task which proved easier than I thought for, but I am as proud of them now as I was the day I saw them all march up together graduation.

Senior Beauty Contest.

After much deliberation over the submitted photographs, the judges have selected the seven most beautiful Senior girls in M. H. S. Not only was pulchritude an important consideration, but the judges also took into account personality and character of feature in choosing this galaxy of feminine loveliness.

Miss Ima Lemon was awarded first place without a struggle. Her style of beauty is of a delightful type rarely found in secondary schools. The judges agreed in proclaiming her a vision of bovine charm. The tortoise shell glasses undoubtedly add materially to her attractiveness. Miss Lemon is a proud recipient of the first prize, the famous Welch Steam-heated Refrigerator.

Second prize was unanimously tendered to Miss Veri Dumb whose photograph appears on the top of the opposite page. She is a sister of Izzy Dumb, the famous Jewish scientist. Miss Dumb was awarded second laurels because of the coquettish allurement of her Cleopatraesque beauty. She is very popular with the student body and her selection will undoubtedly be pleasing to everyone. In recognition of this honor she has received the George Washington Ouija Board, so named because it cannot tell a lie.

Honors for third plaec were declared a tie between the Miss Tring Bean, in the middle of the opposite page, and Miss Colleen O'Flarrety lower right picture. The judges were unable to decide between the tall, graceful, willowy beauty of Miss Bean, and the sturdier, more healthy, Irish-wash-lady-like type of Miss O'Flarrety. Each was given possession of the coveted Keating Fountain Pen Sharpener.

Three other candidates were given honorable mention. They are: Miss U. R. Keen, Miss Applied, and Miss Fortune.

Rules and Regulations.

Purposes: 1.—To aid digestion and sweeten the breath.

2:—To help pay for the Wriggly Building.

Fraternity Song—Sung to the Music of "In Cadence Masticate."

Every member an active man;
Our jaws keep going some,
For whenever we don't chew the rag,
We work on Spearmint gum.

Rules:

1. Members must be able to chew continuously for twelve hours without visible signs of fatigue to be admitted with the ranks of tenderfoot.
2. Members must be able to keep a double chew in the mouth for a whole period under the closest surveillance to become a second class member.
3. Nobody is eligible for membership whose ears wiggle; they are too obvious from behind.
4. Rights of membership are automatically suspended to anyone being twice guilty of being detected and apprehended in the practice of the activity of the brotherhood.
5. Never park your gum behind your ear; it is equivalent to showing the white feather in addition to being messy and low-brow.

Ennunciation Exercise: Practice daily with a full package lodged in your vocal apparatus until you have attained a satisfactory degree of distinctness:

Charming, chattering, cheeky, children cheerfully choose chewing cheap chaws.

Cupid's Exchange.

Although radio is rapidly displacing the telephone as a means of communication, for some reason business on the Cupid Exchange is not lagging. Perhaps a greater privacy in broadcasting is responsible for this popularity. Although Cupid sometimes gets his wires crossed and occasionally patrons get on a busy line, a high degree of satisfaction is given by the M. H. S. exchange, particularly since the rule abolishing charges for overtime conversations has been adopted.

Mr. Perrine:—"Allan, what do you expect to be when you graduate from High School?"

Whenever motor cars are discussed somebody is sure to remark--"That Studebaker Special-Six is a Regular Automobile."

The Studebaker Special-Six has been on the market for four years. Each year has seen added to it such refinements and improvements as time has made possible. Today there are more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand in every day service and we don't believe there's a dissatisfied owner.

The name was selected because comparative tests against all kinds of cars made this car stand out as something special and apart from the ordinary run of automobiles. It requires special merit to warrant calling any car a Special – and if the value isn't special the car quickly fades away.

Count the "Special Sixes" that have appeared since the arrival of the Studebaker Special Six. That's the proof of the value of the original Special Six.
